

EIGHT BELOW RECORD IS SET BY COLD WAVE

Coldest In Two Years
Tuesday and Yesterday a. m.

VERY LITTLE SNOW

Drop of 40 Degrees in 15 Minutes Monday
Afternoon

A new two-year's record was set Tuesday and yesterday when the temperature stood 8 degrees below zero. In 1931 the mercury went as low as 8 below at one time, but did not go so low any time during 1932.

At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon the temperature was 62 degrees above zero. In 15 minutes it had dropped 40 degrees. The mercury continued to drop rapidly until zero was reached at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, and 8 below zero at 6 o'clock, according to the record of the West Texas Gas Co. At 8 o'clock Tuesday morning 10 below was recorded at the gas office in Amarillo and 16 below at the Bivins booster station of the company north of Amarillo.

A little snow came Monday night with the falling temperature, but very little good resulted to the wheat owing to the high wind.

The temperature stood at 8 degrees below again yesterday morning, but continued to rise during the day.

Another cold wave hit this morning. At three o'clock this morning the temperature dropped 14 degrees in 15 minutes. At 8:30 o'clock the mercury stood at 8 degrees below zero, with a stiff north wind blowing.

Needs of City Are Presented

Rev. J. R. Hicks Tells Rotarians Needs of Canyon

High type citizenship, law enforcement, church loyalty were stated to be the greatest needs of Canyon, stated Rev. J. R. Hicks at the luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday. Rev. Hicks stated that he has taken opportunity to carefully consider the needs of Canyon since becoming a citizen here in November, and made these observations after careful consideration.

Canyon has need of loyalty among its citizens for the welfare of the town. Business men should do business in their own town, as well as should all citizens. To build a town, trade here. Mr. Hicks told of his experience in looking for articles in other towns, and finding that he could buy cheaper right here in Canyon. "You can buy most everything cheaper in Canyon than you can in Amarillo," stated the speaker.

Mr. Hicks criticized the unsightly appearance of the vacant lots in Canyon, and the bad appearance it makes upon the visitor. Some of the lots might be used by the unemployed for gardens to assist them in making a living. Utilities rates were also criticized. Many people in Amarillo might be induced to live in Canyon were it not for the higher utilities rates.

Loyalty to law and law enforcement is greatly needed in Canyon. "How would you like to live in a town where there was no law?" asked the speaker. He told of a saloon keeper of former years who had told him he would not live in a town which was without churches, as the saloon man wanted his children in Sunday School every Sunday. Speaking of officers and their duty in law enforcement, Mrs. Hicks stated that it was hard to enforce the law when the best citizens refused to do jury service. "It is a privilege for a citizen to serve on the jury," was his belief.

Supporting the athletic coach who believes and teaches higher standards of living is the duty of every citizen. A coach who does not have these ideals has no place in athletics.

The speaker closed with an appeal to the men to support the churches. The churches were not built alone for the women and children, but men have a very vital part in the church life.

The program was in charge of the Aims and Objects committee, Oscar Gano, chairman.

A. H. Bryant was a visitor of the club.

Following the repair work done on the court house roof with RFC money, Judge S. B. Orton is having the plastering of the court house walls and ceilings patched out of the same fund. A number of men have been employed the past week with this work.

It is likely that rooms in which this work has been done will be repainted before spring.

The plaster had fallen off in a number of places owing to the leaks in the roof.

W. S. Moore Is Killed Monday at Oklahoma City

The body of W. S. Moore was brought through Canyon yesterday morning by Mrs. Moore and her two children on the way to Lamesa where the funeral services were to be held. The family lived here until last September when they moved to Oklahoma City.

Car Owners Have More Time Make Payment License

Owners of automobiles have been given an extension of time for the payment of license for 1933 in a bill passed by the legislature and approved by Governor Ferguson. The extension was made to April 1st.

1388 car owners and 154 truck owners made payments before the second of February as compared with 1700 who paid for their license plates on that date of 1932. Word of the proposed extension of time kept a large number from making payments, who had intended paying for their plates.

Farm Loans Will Be Available On First of March

Loans for farmers on 1933 crops will be available by the first of March, states W. C. Black. Blanks are expected today on which farmers will make their application for loans. T. C. Thompson and R. O. Allison are other members of the local committee which passes upon the loans. County Agent W. H. Upchurch and Fred E. Wortham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will assist in handling the loans.

Mr. Black states that farmers should advise with their bankers as to the amount of money they will need for financing this year's crop, and should have all information ready to fill out the blanks.

MONEY BILL FOR W. T. IS TO BE HEARD

Hill Will Meet Committee in Austin on Tuesday

REDUCTION OF 30%

No Change Likely in the Standing of W. T.
at Present

Dr. J. A. Hill returned Monday from Austin where he spent several days with members of the legislature regarding the status of W. T. and appropriations for the coming two years. Dr. Hill has been called to meet with the Appropriations Committee of the House next Tuesday or Wednesday in order to go over the budget of W. T. for the coming two years. The meeting of the Board of Regents scheduled for last Monday was postponed until next Monday owing to this change in arrangements for the appropriations hearing.

The bill pending before the committee calls for an appropriation of $153,640 for W. T. for each of the coming two years. This is a reduction of about 30% from the appropriation of this year. Dr. Hill hopes that the committee will reduce the amount not more than 25%, which has been called for by Governor Ferguson.

The question of summer school will probably be discussed in the meeting next week. There is no appropriation for the coming summer, and no recommendations have been made either by the Governor or the Board of Control for summer schools.

Dr. Hill states that from the best information he was able to obtain, sentiment seems to be in favor of opposition to any changes in the colleges this year, except to reduce appropriations to the lowest possible amount. An article in the Dallas News of Monday stated that it was very likely that no bills would be introduced following the recommendation of either the Economy Committee or the Board of Education, but the policy would be followed of reducing appropriations so as to force radical changes in the colleges.

While in Austin Dr. Hill conferred with Senators and Representatives from this section of the state, and with Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, who is in Austin representing the Canyon Chamber of Commerce in the fight to retain W. T. as a standard four-year college. All reported to Dr. Hill that they would do everything possible to keep the college functioning as it now is.

District Attorney Salary Held Up By Attorney General

Attorney General J. M. Allred has ruled that the salaries being paid all district attorneys in districts composed of two or more counties was illegal and that the act setting these salaries is unconstitutional. The opinion rendered Saturday has reduced the salary of Grady Hazlewood, district attorney, from $4,000 per year to only $500 per year. The balance of the salary is supposed to come from the fees of office, but there are no fees in this office.

Mr. Hazlewood left Sunday for Austin where he will confer with several other district attorneys who are affected by the ruling. It will be a matter of legislative action to correct the difficulty.

Mr. Hazlewood was elected district attorney last year without opposition. He took office the first of January, but did not receive his January warrant owing to the difficulty which was uncovered.

CLOTHING RECEIVED FROM THE RED CROSS

Another shipment of clothing has been received from the Red Cross which is being dispensed through the committee in charge, Mrs. T. C. Thompson, chairman. In the shipment were socks and sweaters.

C. H. Jarrett, chairman of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter, states that he has asked for more clothing, which he expects will be received during the coming week.

Amarillo Women Do Shopping in Canyon and Save

A woman from Canyon was recently admiring a dress of an Amarillo woman, and was surprised to find that it had been bought in Canyon. Two Amarillo women in the group stated that they did most of their shopping in Canyon because the prices were so much lower.

Canyon people should profit by doing their shopping in Canyon.

Prices here are uniformly cheaper than in the large towns where rents are higher.

Loyalty to the home town is the only way to build Canyon. Money spent in another town builds up that town, and at the same time tears down Canyon.

Mrs. LeRoy Landers Died Monday; Buried Canadian Yesterday

Mrs. LeRoy Landers died Monday morning at 9:10 o'clock at an Amarillo hospital where she had been taken after the birth of a still-born daughter at 6:30 o'clock that morning. The bodies of the baby and mother were taken Tuesday to Canadian where the funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church.

Mrs. Landers has been prominent in the city for the past seven years. She will be remembered by many ex-students of W. T. as Miss Margaret Good. After completing her work in the college she was a teacher in the Canyon public schools. She and Mr. Landers were students together at W. T. They were married in May, 1930. Her death came as a distinct shock to a large circle of friends in the city and among the ex-students of the college.

Mrs. Landers is survived by her husband, who is deputy County Clerk, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Good, three sisters and three brothers; Lawrence Good, Mrs. Ray Rucker of Sherman, Arnold Good, Mrs. Ira B. Ferguson, Warren and Virginia Good.

During her student days Mrs. Landers was one of the most prominent students in W. T. She was a member of the Lloyd Green Allen Scholarship Society, and of the Elaphean Literary Society.

Poll Tax Payments Show Great Reduction From 1932

Only 1120 poll taxes were paid in Randall county this year as compared with 2101 for last year is the report made from the office of Bob Barnett, Sheriff and Tax Collector.

In view of the fact that no elections are in sight for this year, it is believed that the 981 who did not pay their poll taxes considered that it was not necessary to make this payment. However, the poll tax must be paid by those who have other property assessed, and will be collected eventually with delinquent taxes which are on the rolls.

The payments this year are the lowest that Randall county has had in many years.

One-Eyed Cars Are Subject to Arrest States Patrolmen

State Highway Patrolmen have issued a warning that all automobiles must be equipped with both headlights and a tail light, or the owners are subject to arrest.

Owing to the fact that Governor Ferguson has signed the bill extending the time for car license payments until April 1st, many car owners have not had their automobile lights tested and they are in need of repairs.

Local officers have been asked by the State Highway Patrolmen to assist in enforcing the law that provides for two front and one tail light on every car. Danger of driving cars not properly equipped with lights is pointed out in the warning.

Revolt against farm loan foreclosures over the United States will result in nothing but harm for the farmers in those communities in which the movement is most pronounced. Those who made the loans are not responsible for the conditions which make foreclosures necessary. Usually the loans are made by companies, which are owned by hundreds of people who rely upon the interest from their investments. The fact that value of property upon which the loans were made has greatly declined is no more the fault of the lender than it is the one who receives the money. If the time has come when loans cannot be protected, no more loans will be made, and the burden will fall heaviest upon those who most greatly need the money.

There is no fair tax, except the one imposed upon the other fellow. The fellow with an income does not wish an income tax; the merchant does not want a sales tax; the property owner does not want the ad valorem tax continued; the gasoline tax user is not enthusiastic over the gasoline tax; the show houses do not want the amusement tax; in the eyes of the sulphur people, the tax on this product is all wrong; and the cement manufacturer is equally opposed to taxing his product; the poll tax is being attacked. It would be fine if the government could run and function without taxes. Unfortunately this cannot be.

The legislature is again trying to help the farmers of the state by repealing the chauffeur's license fees for trucks which are used only for local purposes. Governor Sterling vetoed this bill twice. It is predicted that Governor Ferguson will sign the bill. At the same time a movement is on foot to do the farmers of this section a great injustice by repealing the gasoline refund provision. If this provision is repealed, it will cost the farmers of West Texas something like two millions of dollars annually, which is now being remitted on the gasoline used in the tractors of the farmers.

Relief work in Texas has been administered in the most economical manner. Local committees are working without pay, whereas in Oklahoma most of the counties pay a salary of $150 per month for administration of this relief fund. The people of Texas should feel very thankful for the labor which is being donated by the local citizens for the purpose of relieving the suffering of the people of the state.

Jim Ferguson comes out with great praise for the legislature, and the way this body is working. Many of the newspapers have started the usual barrage against the law-making body and pointing out its defects. After 18 years around Austin, Jim Ferguson knows that it is a better plan to work with the legislature in order to get over his program, rather than oppose the House and Senate in their activities.

Those who did not pay for the 1933 automobile licenses will now have until April 1st to make the payment. About half of the people of the state made their payments on time. The theory is that it is better for the state to have cars with 1932 license plates burning gasoline from which the state collects a tax, than to have said cars in the garage, paying neither license fees nor gasoline tax.

What have you to swap? The News wishes to help the farmers and others who have something that they do not need, and which they are willing to swap for something which they do need. The News will run as much as 25 words free of charge, if the copy is brought to the office by Wednesday noon. Let's swap. Bring in your list.

The federal government will again make crop loans to the farmers. It is said that Randall county made a very fine record in repaying the loans of last year, therefore, it may be expected that the farmers of Randall county will this year be given every possible consideration in the extension of credit.

A county judge elected on the economy platform in a neighboring county states that while people raise a terrible howl about their taxes, they raise a louder howl if the county cuts expenses and really tries to save them some money. "It's terrible to be a public official under present conditions," is the way he puts it.

Word from Austin indicates that the sales tax will be passed as a relief measure for the purpose of relieving the state from a long period of deficiency. While the sales tax is objectionable to many people, it is being accepted as the only method by which money may be raised in these difficult times.

Having survived the shock of not getting beer by Christmas, it is to be expected that the country can wait at least until next Christmas for its beer. The hysteria created during the presidential campaign has about faded out, so far as the sane and sober thinking people are concerned.

Various towns have been putting into circulation script of the local merchants, which may be used as money for all local purposes. The idea is spreading, and may be adopted soon by Canyon merchants. The idea may be of benefit to local conditions.

The newspaper writers up Washington way are having a merry time selecting Roosevelt's cabinet for him. It will not be long until we shall see just how good or bad they are guessing.

Both congress and the state legislature have refused to decrease their own salaries, while they whittle down the salaries of others. Not very good examples of economy.

We are all wondering now why we were so foolish to go in debt so much.

So far as we are concerned, the wind may stop at any time.

IF KIPLING HAD WRITTEN IT LIKE THIS

"If you can see what some folks call 'depression'."

As nothing but a spin of Fortune's wheel;

If you can keep your poise and self-possession;

No matter what you think or how you feel;

If you can view a stupid situation All cluttered up with 'ifs' and 'ands' and 'buts'.

And take it at its proper valuation—

A challenge to your common sense and 'guts'.

If you can rise above the mess and muddle,

If you can glimpse a rainbow thru' the clouds

When Doubt and Dread and Fear are in a huddle

And hope is being measured for a shroud;

If you can keep a saving sense of humor

For stories that are slightly inexact;

If you can disregard Report and Rumor

And not accept a statement as a fact;

If you can spread the gospel of successes,

If you can stir the spirit that instills

The latent lift in lathes and looms and presses

And lift the stream above a thousand mills;

If, briefly you can spend an extra dollar;

If you can pry the sacred Roll apart

And buy another shirt or shoe or collar

And act as if it didn't break your heart;

If you have faith in those with whom you labor,

And trust in those with whom you make a trade;

If you believe in friend and next door neighbor

And heed examples pioneers have made;

If you expect the sun to rise tomorrow;

If you are sure that somewhere skies are blue—

Wake up and pack away the futile sorrow

For better days are largely up to YOU!"

Radio

In 1930, there were approximately 12½ million radio receiving sets in the United States.

31 years ago—Dec. 12, 1901, at 12:30 p. m.—Marconi received the first signals ever sent by radio.

He had built a receiver station in Newfoundland and for two days had sent up kites and balloons carrying long aerials to catch a signal sent from an experimental station in Cornwall—1700 miles distant.

Storms carried away the kites and balloons. Finally on the third day the letter "S" in the Morse code was heard—the first radio signal.

Muskrat farming in swamp land of the South has developed to such an extent that the annual output now exceeds 12,000,000 skins and these lands are now as profitable as nearby tilled farms.

3,000,000 Who Escaped Income Tax In 1932, Must File Return This Year

SOME 3,000,000 persons who did not pay any income tax in 1932 must "shell out" this year. Furthermore, they must make their return on their own initiative and before March 15, since they will not be prompted, as will the 1932 income tax payers, by income tax return blanks received from the government.

This vast group of no-longer-forgotten men is made up of married persons or heads of families whose net income during the calendar year of 1932 was $2500 or more; of single persons whose net income in that period was $1000 or more; likewise, of all persons whose gross income was $5000 or more. These new recruits must submit filled-out returns to the collector's office even if no tax need be paid due to exemptions and credits for dependents.

An urgent need for increased revenue compels Uncle Sam to bear down hard this year on John Q. Taxpayer. Thus, the exemption allowed married men and heads of families, formerly $3500, has been reduced to $2500; and that for single men has been cut from $1500 to $1000. At the same time, last year's rates of 1½ per cent on the first $4000 above exemption, 3 per cent on the next $4000 and 5 per cent on the remainder, have been increased to 4 per cent on the first $4000 and 8 per cent on the rest. In addition, the 25 per cent reduction in tax formerly allowed for "earned income" has been done away with, although the $400 credit allowed for each child or other dependent remains.

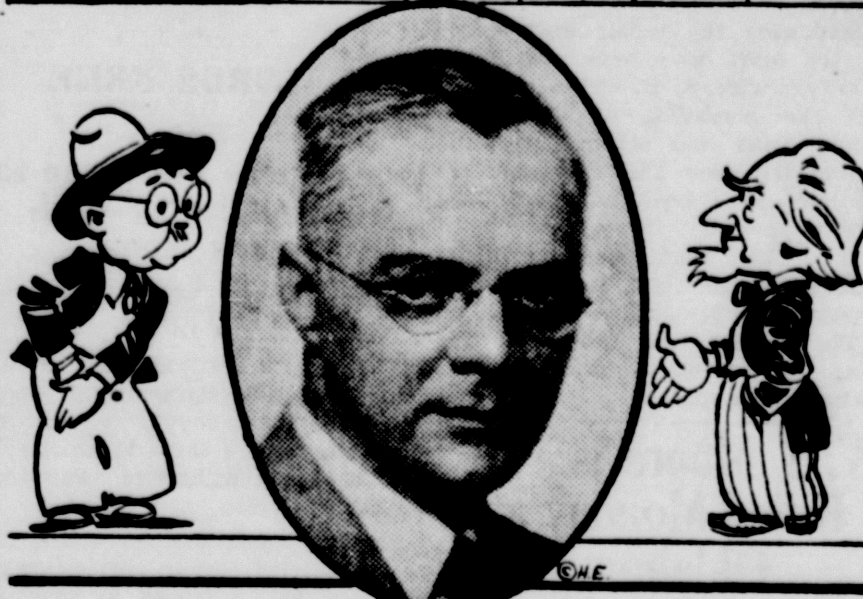

To contrast the new and previous taxes, let us take the case of two men, Mr. Brown and Mr. Jones.

Mr. Brown is, let us say, a married man with two children and a net income of $5000 a year. As a married man, Brown last year was entitled to an exemption of $3500, plus $400 each, or $800, for his children—a total of $4300 exemption. He paid 1½ per cent tax on the remaining $700 income, less 25 per cent credit for earned income—or $7.88.

This year Brown will get an exemption of only $2500, plus the $800 credit for his two children—or $3300. He will be taxed 4 per cent on the remaining $1700 income, with no allowance whatever for earned income. His tax therefore will be $68—or almost nine times his previous tax.

Mr. Jones, a single man with no dependents, earns, say a net income of $14,500. Last year he would have paid a tax of only $480. But this year it will be $1085. The unmarried man's exemption of $1000 leaves him $13,500 on which to pay tax. The rate for the first $4000 will be 4 per cent, or $160; on the next

Taxpayer's Status	NET INCOME
	$1000	$2000	$3000	$4000	$5000
SINGLE	no tax	$40	$80	$120	$160
MARRIED, NO CHILDREN	no tax	no tax	$20	$60	$100
MARRIED, ONE CHILD	no tax	no tax	$4	$44	$84
MARRIED, TWO CHILDREN	no tax	no tax	no tax	$28	$68
MARRIED, THREE CHILDREN	no tax	no tax	no tax	$12	$52

The chart above illustrates how the new income taxes will affect incomes in the lower scales. It is calculated on net income at the basic rates, taking no deductions but the personal exemption; therefore your tax probably won't exactly coincide with these figures even if your net income does. Since there will be approximately 3,000,000 additional taxpayers this year, U. S. Internal Revenue Commissioner David Burnett, below, of Washington, urges that income tax returns be filed early to avoid a tremendous rush when the March 15 deadline approaches.

$9500, 8 per cent, or $760; and there is a surtax of $165.

If the new income taxes seem rather heavy to you, think of those men who had $1,000,000 income in 1932. When the tax collector gets through with them this year, each will have paid out $571,000, as compared with a $240,000 payment last year.

Treasury Secretary Ogden Mills has estimated that there will be nearly 6,500,000 returns filed in 1933 as against 3,000,000 in 1932. To every person who paid a federal income tax last year, U. S. collectors of internal revenue throughout the country are mailing an income tax return blank this year. But it will be up to the 3,000,000-odd who did not pay a 1932 income tax to get their own blanks, which may be had on application to any collector's office.

The returns must be filed by midnight, March 15, and at least one-fourth of the tax paid at that time. The rest of the tax, if desired, may be paid in three installments on June 15, Sept. 15 and Dec. 15. Responsibility for filing rests entirely with the individual; the government threatens added penalty, fine or imprisonment to anyone willfully failing to do so.

There are two kinds of forms on which personal income tax returns are made, and it is important that the proper one be used. Form 1040-A, a single sheet blank, is for reporting net incomes of not more than $5000. Form 1040, a larger folded blank, is for net incomes of more than $5000. The latter form must also be used by business and professional men and farmers, regardless of the amount of income.

Lives With 180 Cats and Dogs

Anyone stepping into the estate of Miss Sydney Fairbrother, well known British actress, would think it had just rained cats and dogs, for one hundred and eighty of these assorted pets frolic freely in and about Miss Fairbrother's home at Chalk Pits, Rickmansworth, England. Chalk Pits, mentioned in George Eliot's "Mill on the Floss," was abandoned for many years before Miss Fairbrother converted its buildings into up-to-date kennels and a "cattery."

Condon Speaks To Club Women Carson County

"The Challenge of the American Community" was the subject of a talk made by Mr. S. H. Condon, of the department of government, at a meeting of the Federated Women's Clubs of Carson County in Panhandle, Texas, yesterday.

In his address Mr. Condon touched on a great many social and economic issues confronting the small American community. He showed that the average small town community is definitely related and dependent upon the farm and the farmer. "The interests of the farm and the small town are interwoven," he said.

League Holds Art Contests As New Phase

The West Texas State Teachers College, in co-operation with the University of Texas Interscholastic League and under the immediate direction of Miss Isabel Robinson of the Art Department, announces, for the first time, a Regional Competition in Art.

The contest will be held in conjunction with the other contests on Friday, April 21. It will last for seven hours with time out for lunch. All art work must be done during this period, and may be done in three different fields, charcoal sketching, water-color and oil painting of still life, and clay, wax or soap modeling.

Gold and silver medals will be awarded to the winners of the first and second places in each of three fields of the contests on the same basis as literary events. The winners of the gold medals are eligible for the state contest.

Those who desire further information may write to the officials of the Interscholastic League at Austin, Texas, or to Miss Robinson.

You may just as well buy a more expensive car this year because it's just as easy to get behind in the payments.

There are just two classes—those who keep up with their neighbors and those who keep up with the installments.

Buffaloes Cop Two-Game Series From Okla. City University Team

Superiority Of Victors Makes Games Appear Slow And Dull

In two games dulled by the overwhelming superiority of the victors, the Buffaloes of West Texas copped the two-game series last Friday and Saturday from the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs of Oklahoma City, scoring at will in the first game and in decisive fashion in the second.

The final scores were 43 to 24, and 35 to 23.

Heap Big Joe Fortenberry rang the bell for 19 points in the first game to take scoring honors. Although the Goldbugs kept the game even-tempered in the first few minutes of play, the outcome was not long in doubt for the W. T. aces soon warmed to the occasion and dropped their baskets from various and sundry angles. The half ended with the score 17-11, Buffs' favor.

Monroe was second high pointer with 13 while K. Pepper led the visitors with 10.

Burton sent his second string to face the Oklahomans in the second half of the second game. The Buffs had been slow in getting started the first half, the Goldbugs scoring first and showing plenty of fight. But they were thoroughly subdued in a few minutes of sparkling play by the home team who led at the half 23-6.

Taking advantage of the second team's inertia, the visitors sank enough goals to make the game seem fairly close—on paper.

Substitutions prevented any Buff remaining in the game long enough to run up a high score. Collins, Goldbug forward, led with ten, his running mate, Pickens, close behind with nine.

Women Are Easy to Suit This Spring

NEW OFFERINGS PRESENT A WIDE RANGE OF STYLES, FABRICS, DESIGNS AND COLORS, FOR MILADY'S CHOICE

BY HARRIET

YOU literally can "suit yourself" this spring, and be in style, for there are innumerable types of suits being shown as "correct."

They start with the dressy, fashionable daytime luncheon type of suit, usually a frock with a jacket of different fabric, or a skirt and jacket of different materials and the blouse tying them together in color and feeling. They run the gamut of style and materials to the sports suit with swaggy three-quarters coat, gored skirt and separate blouse, often a cotton one or novelty hand-knit or fancy silk.

The fabrics for spring promise great diversity in appearance, even if all women happened to choose the same kind of cut. Matelasse or novelty raised surfaces, which the French call "cloque weaves," are a positive rage. So are the new spongy and crisp types called blistered fabrics. They feature self-colored checks, plaids, diagonals and dotted designs, most of them raised, only a few in openwork, like last year.

If you are beforehand and are this minute planning to make your own, or buy them, late color schemes use as a basic tone the following colors, popular in the order given: navy, beige, gray and brown. With them you can use white, red, gray or light blue with the navy; brown or blue with the beige; deeper gray, navy or brown with the gray; also red, yellow or orange with the right tone to blend with the gray; and white, gray, yellow or orange with the brown.

Two costumes, at opposite ends of the scale of formality, include a dressy daytime costume, black with a white dressmaker jacket, and a beige runabout suit, with brown printed blouse and scarf.

The dressy little suit uses a matelasse silk, a heavy, very roughish one, for the dress which is strictly tailored with smart round neckline and bow tie attached in the back only. The jacket looks like a waist, so beautifully is it tailored, with wide shoulders, round lapels, double-breasted effect and long sleeves. It is a new length, just below the waistline, but not much below it. It is belted in a trick way, with buckles at either side. And it is worn with a smart tricorn of matelasse, bag to match and formal black pumps.

The runabout suit is a new rabbit's hair wool, in beige, made with a gored skirt that has its belt stitched right on and buttons through the left side. The coat has wide shoulders, too, conservative set-in-sleeves, flared to its seven-eighths length and buttons right up the front with bone buttons. The blouse is a cute brown silk one, figured in beige. It sounds the mode for very dark blouses with light-toned suits. The hat is beige, bandied with brown and beige velvet.

Invents New Tree Sprayer

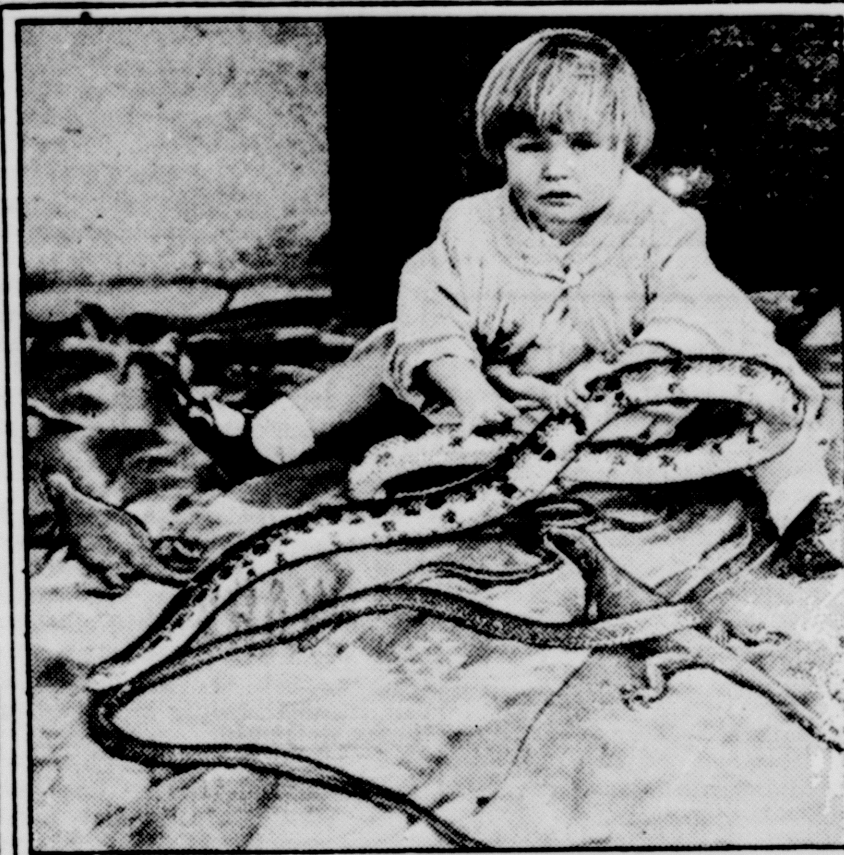

A new type of fruit tree sprayer, which permits trees to be sprayed from above and below, has been devised by W. Brice of London, England. A caterpillar tractor hauls two tanks full of insect poison. On top of a mast rising from the truck is a platform from which men spray the fluid over the tops and sides of trees. Other men walk on the ground and spray the trees from below.

Mr. Rowe Tells Of Lincoln

Thursday afternoon Mr. Rowe, who is a resident of Canyon and gives his age as 94, visited Mr. Carruth in his office in the high school building. This interesting gentleman does not give evidence of his advanced age, for he appears very active and told of having driven over the country quite a bit recently in his Model T Ford.

Mr. Rowe spoke of knowing Abraham Lincoln well, stating that he has driven a team of horses to a stage coach thousands of miles with him during his campaign for the presidency. When questioned by Mr. Carruth, he also admitted that he knew Douglas well.

Mr. Rowe said that he eats very simply. He rarely eats meat, and never eats vegetables. He has been a doctor, and this probably accounts in part for his ability to keep young. During his conversation he mentioned a son, whose age he gave as 74 years.

Ex-Students

Miss Ann Smith, a former basketball star, is now teaching the fourth grade and is coaching girls' basketball.

Marion Higdon, who had a record of never missing a day of school during the entire eleven years of school, is now employed at the "K" Service Station.

Miss Olive Schramm, a graduate of '24, is County Treasurer. She has held this office for the last two terms.

Johnnie Wallace, Katye Lowe, and Vincent Lockhart, graduates of '32, have been elected to the Scribblers Club, a freshman writing club of W. T.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris, is 1,000 feet in height.

Louise Wester, editor of the Eagles Tale, began her school life at Plainview, but moved to Canyon when she was in the seventh grade.

She wrote the seventh grade commencement play her first year here; and when she enrolled as a freshman, she became a member of the Eagles Tale staff. In her sophomore year she continued her work on the paper, served on the Student Council, and was president of one of the sophomore home rooms. In her junior year she was president of the junior class, club editor of the paper, and also the junior queen at the carnival last year.

She was appointed editor of the Eagles Tale at the beginning of this year. She is a member of the Student Council, president of the Press Club, and belongs to the pep squad.

When she finishes high school, Louise plans to enroll in W. T. S. T. C. where she will major in commercial work.

R. L. Burnam began his Canyon High School life as a member of the junior class when he moved here from Arney.

Since entering school here, he has come out for major sports. He did his best work in track, placing in the Amarillo track meet last spring. He worked on the Eagles Tale staff as a reporter his first year here. His grades were very good, and this encouraged him to try for a scholarship. He made four and one half credits last year; but he is taking four subjects, biology, English, solid geometry, and commercial geography, as this is a scholarship requirement.

In this, his senior year, he has been assistant editor of the Eagles Tale. He had the part of Jim in "George in a Jam" and will take a leading part in "The Merry, Merry Cuckoo," the one act play. He also plans to enter the spelling contest. He is a negative speaker on one of the debate teams.

Birthday Party

A surprise party was given in honor of Ruth McCreery's fifteenth birthday, January 31, by Winnie Dee Hicks and Mary Lee West. Table games were played.

Debate Teams

Compete in McLean

Tourney, Feb. 10-11

Four debate teams will be taken to McLean to compete in the Lion's Club Tournament. Robbie Foster, Armorer Lee Greenfield, Laura Fern Brian, Kathryn Robinson, Marvin Callahan, Joe Collins, Robert Black and Ogden Stroud will be on the teams.

The Lion's Club Tournament is one of the largest invitation tournaments in this section. Representatives from Amarillo, Pampa, and other schools will be present. Transportation will be furnished by Tyson Cox and Mr. Hudson. Mrs. Crump is going as chaperon.

The subject for debate is very interesting. It is: Resolved, that at least one-half of all state and local revenues in Texas should be derived from other sources other than taxes on tangible property.

Among the debates already scheduled for the Canyon High teams are conflicts with Amarillo, Hereford and Lubbock. Mr. Terry, the debate coach, expects to arrange a few others and within a few days ought to be able to announce a complete schedule of the debates for the year.

Several Pupils Reported Ill

Serious illness has been the cause of several absences the last week.

Francis Elliston, the president of the junior class, has been seriously ill for the past two weeks at his home with scarlet fever.

Helen Elizabeth Bowman, a prominent member of the sophomore class is now recovering from an appendicitis operation at Northwest Hospital in Amarillo.

Ruby Foster, also a prominent member of the sophomore class and a member of the Eagles staff, is also recovering from an appendicitis operation at Northwest Hospital in Amarillo.

Minstrel Men Sing Negro Songs In Chapel Program

A program was given in chapel to advertise the Virginia Minstrel which was given Feb. 7.

The band under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Barker, presented several numbers.

Mr. Stroud, Lee Foster, Rev. R. L. Hudson, Dan Sanders and George Terry and Mr. Fowler advertised the minstrel by singing several songs.

After the chorus a general pep meeting was held accompanied by the band.

The program was enjoyed by everyone.

Intramural Basketball Rules

No member of the regular squad is eligible for the class teams which are to play in the intramural basketball games. Members of the regular squad will be chosen as coaches and managers of the class teams. Team members must furnish all of their equipment.

Various teams which dress out in the dressing room must see that the room is cleaned up afterward, and put away their equipment.

Team candidates who make an attempt to work out at a time not scheduled will automatically be eliminated from the competition.

The entire tournament will be under the direction of Coach Barksdale, who will arrange the matching of the teams, the officials, etc. He is to be final judge in all matters pertaining to the intramural contest.

Practice Schedule

7th Grade--Noon.

8th Grade--Monday, Wednesday and Friday, last period.

9th Grade--Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, last period.

10th Grade--Monday, Wednesday and Friday after school.

11th Grade--Tuesday, Thursday and Monday, after school.

The preliminary games will be played off after school, when the practice period for all teams has been finished. The final game of the series will be held at night. Students will be admitted on activity tickets; a small charge will be made to outsiders. The award for the winning team has not been decided upon.

SCOUT PARTY

The Girl Scouts started their hobo trip Wednesday by meeting in room 13 where they held their business meeting, and then visited the home of "Sis" Overton where they were served pop corn, played games, and sang songs. They continued their journey by begging sandwiches from Overton Jordan and then meeting at the Scout House where they found some nice red apples awaiting them. Finally the group adjourned after being served cookies and cocoa by Mary Ella Davis and Sarah Bonnie Bourn.

Girls Win Over Hereford--Boys Lost Friday

The Eagle sextet defeated the Hereford squad in a fast game here Friday night with a score of 13 to 12. Velma Crawford was high point scorer for the Eagles. Mable Schmitz, a fast Eagle forward, was handicapped by the skillful guarding of Elaine Dyer, an all-state guard. The guarding of Athalee Overton and Armorer Lee Greenfield kept the Hereford squad from running up a score. The skillful shooting of Velma Crawford enabled the Eagles to get away with the large end of the score.

The male cagers were not as successful as the feminine sextet. The lead gained by the Whitefaces in the first quarter was never overcome by the Eagles. The tall center on the Hereford squad gave them the control of the tip. The Eagles got a large number of shots, but were unable to make many baskets. About fourteen men were played by Coach Barksdale.

Repairs Made In Science Department

"What is that?" asked an inquisitive reporter of Mr. Fox. "That" referred to a large apparatus standing on Mr. Fox's desk. This accommodating teacher explained that he was adjusting the barometer. "One day when the window was open, the wind blew the barometer off the nail in the wall and since then it has needed to be regulated. He explained to the reporter that as you increase the pressure, the temperature at which the water boils increases. The apparatus records air pressure. With such facts, Mr. Fox is able to regulate his barometer. The barometer records the air pressure. "Low air pressure is a sign of a storm," says Mr. Fox. He will now be able to predict the weather more accurately.

So We'll Sing

The new school song books "Everybody Sing Book" were distributed Monday afternoon at the activity period to the girls who met in the auditorium. The girls, led by Mrs. Barker, sang several of the songs and were well pleased with the books.

The boys received their books Tuesday afternoon. They, too, put the songs to a test, and were satisfied with the result.

There is quite a bit of competition between the boys and girls as to who can sing the best. Although each is very boastful, no decision has been made as to the superior group.

"At the age of 1 a man wishes that he knew as much as his 20 year old son," chirps a brother editor. And if he has no son he wishes he had one to tell him what he ought to know.

"The Merry Merry Cuckoo" To Be Contest Play

Several of the High School pupils are now busy at work on the one act play, "The Merry Merry Cuckoo," which they will present in the Interscholastic meet in the spring.

The cast is:

Anna Delhen--Mary Beth Campbell.

David Delhen--R. L. Burnam.

Gute--Jack Oldham.

Laury Priehard--Dora Mae Plaster.

Pastor Morris--Earl Richie.

Be a Bit Old-Fashioned This Spring

SINGLE-BREADED, PLEATED, STRAIGHT-LINED SKIRTS WILL BE VERY POPULAR, IN BLUE, GRAY OR BEIGE

BY HARRIET

SPRING clothes are going to be individual looking, not a little old-fashioned in cut, and very different in line and coloring.

If you have your eye on a spring wardrobe, now is the time to begin planning it.

Suits are very good, short-jacketed ones and three-quarters; capes are excellent, usually over dresses of contrasting color; plaids in gay and somber colors; fashion suits, capes and dresses or part of ensembles and brimmed hats top the mode.

These are a few of the high spots brought out by the National Retail Dry Goods Association spring fashion show. Others are:

Blue is the outstanding spring color. Navy, Corsair or practically any tone of blue, soft blues being better than bright, hard ones.

Gray and beige are excellent spring bets. Greens come combined with gorgeous gold tones and vice versa. And all the rusts and golds and greens are fine for sports things. Pastel colors abound for dresses. Printed things come with plain capes, particularly separate printed dresses, the kind you make at home.

Straight-lined skirts are better than the bias cuts of the winter; kick pleats give fullness to nine out of ten tailored suits; jackets are single-breasted rather than double, though there are some double-breasted, jaunty things. Sleeves are generous, though more conservative in cut; however, some leg-o-mutton and puffed ones are at the top of smart outfits.

COTTONS are used in conjunction with wools, every little suit having its smart organdie, linen, pique, crinkled crepe or gingham blouse. Light suits take black, blue, brown or dark green blouses with the hats repeating the dark note. Crisp white pique dinner jackets top black evening dresses, for young things who have spring in the blood.

Two costumes at the fashion show that sound spring were a dress and cape outfit and a three-piece suit.

The former was a turquoise silk dress, with long sleeves and a sailor collar with bow tie in front. It fitted beautifully through the waistline, had no belt, and its skirt was cut on the straight, with

A dress and cape outfit and a three-piece suit, two types of costumes to be in vogue this spring, are shown above. At left, a turquoise silk dress with form fitting waistline is worn with a three-quarters cape of navy blue wool, unlined, and a blue and white banded sailor. The suit at right is of checkered brown and beige fabric, cut swagger fashion, with a three-quarters coat with green collar. A white waist is worn with this suit.

The three-quarters cape was of navy blue wool, unlined, cut with aquarish shoulders and a scarf collar that can either tie in front or knot in front and throw the ends back over the shoulders. A fabric hat was a cute little blue and white sailor, banded and with the center of the crown of blue.

The suit was a checkered brown and beige fabric, cut swagger fashion, with the coat three-quarters, made with green collar and revers and the skirt all of the plaid. The waist was white. The hat that went with it was green straw, and a lively note it gave the whole suit.

Famed "Swimming Mailman" of South Sea Island Now U. S. Rancher

NIUA-FOU, a tiny island in the South Seas, has lost its famous "swimming mailman." After braving shark-ridden waters once a month for 11 years to post and receive letters, Charles Stuart Ramsay has turned to a comparatively unexciting life raising avocados on a small California ranch.

As a result, passengers of several Pacific steamships have been deprived of a monthly exhibition of daring and skill hard to equal. Ramsay, the "route's" main customer as well as its carrier, says two white men left on the island write but little, and 1200 natives there, of course, don't write at all.

Ramsay's aquatic route was between the island and the monthly mail ship, a mile offshore. While passengers cheered, he would swim to the ship through surf too rough for a small boat, and return to the island towing a water-tight tin can containing the mail and occasional supplies.

After making his 125th round trip, Ramsay, an Englishman, tied his few belongings on his head, swam to the next boat which arrived at the isle, and sailed for California. Despite his 40 years, Ramsay has the looks and bearing of a much younger man. He believes many years spent out-of-doors in the South Seas are responsible for his rugged physical condition.

Ramsay founded the unique mail system himself 11 years ago on the tiny island, a lonely outpost in the Pacific situated midway between the Fiji and Samoa Islands. As is often the case, necessity was the mother of invention. Ramsay wanted to get his mail regularly while he was manager of the copra trading station on the islands.

But Pacific steamships stopped but seldom at the little isle, and then a mile offshore because of the rocky shore line. The huge swell of the waves made it almost impossible to launch a small boat through the breakers. But there was a last resort. He would swim out to the ships as they passed the island to receive and post mail.

Ramsay made arrangements

with steamship officials to have their ships stop at the island each month. At first sight of the ship coming past the island, Ramsay would plunge through the treacherous surf and strike out for the boat, equipped only with a 10-foot pole which was highly buoyant and which helped support him in the water.

Braving sharks and other unseen dangers, the swimming mailman would not stop until he reached the Jacob's ladder thrown out for him by the steamship crew. He would take off a tin can bearing the only news of the outside world in a month and, without stopping to rest, plunge back into the sea and begin the return journey. While Ramsay himself made more than 125 separate trips to get the mail, he was never attacked by sharks which infest the waters. A native companion, however, who accompanied him only last year, was killed almost instantly when one of the sea monsters bit off his leg, causing him to die within three minutes from loss of blood.

Ramsay, who is now running an avocado ranch at Vista, Calif., explained that ships will continue to stop at Niua-Fou, but only once in every six months. Supplies and mail will be exchanged with the ships in a similar manner by native swimmers.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Wherein Thomas Watson, a Henglish Cockney Featherweight Title Contender, Proves That Gym Appearances Deceive

BY PHILIP MARTIN

HEARKEN unto the tale of a seaman in King George's navy, one Thomas Watson, who would the world's featherweight champion be.

Seaman Watson, as cockney a bloke as hever 'it the 'igh seas, is in this country to wage wars in the ranks of the tiny fellows, after having resigned the life of a pub-keeper in dear old England.

Watson arrived in the United States about a month ago, heralded as the featherweight champion of England, and clamored for a match with Kid Chocolate, the ebony-hued Cuban who is recognized by the New York Boxing Commission as the featherweight champion of the world.

A fight with Chocolate the former British tar was promised. But the catch in the whole setup was the demand of the New York fathers that Watson accept a gym trial to prove his wares. If he performed satisfactorily in this trial, he was to fight Chocolate on Jan. 27.

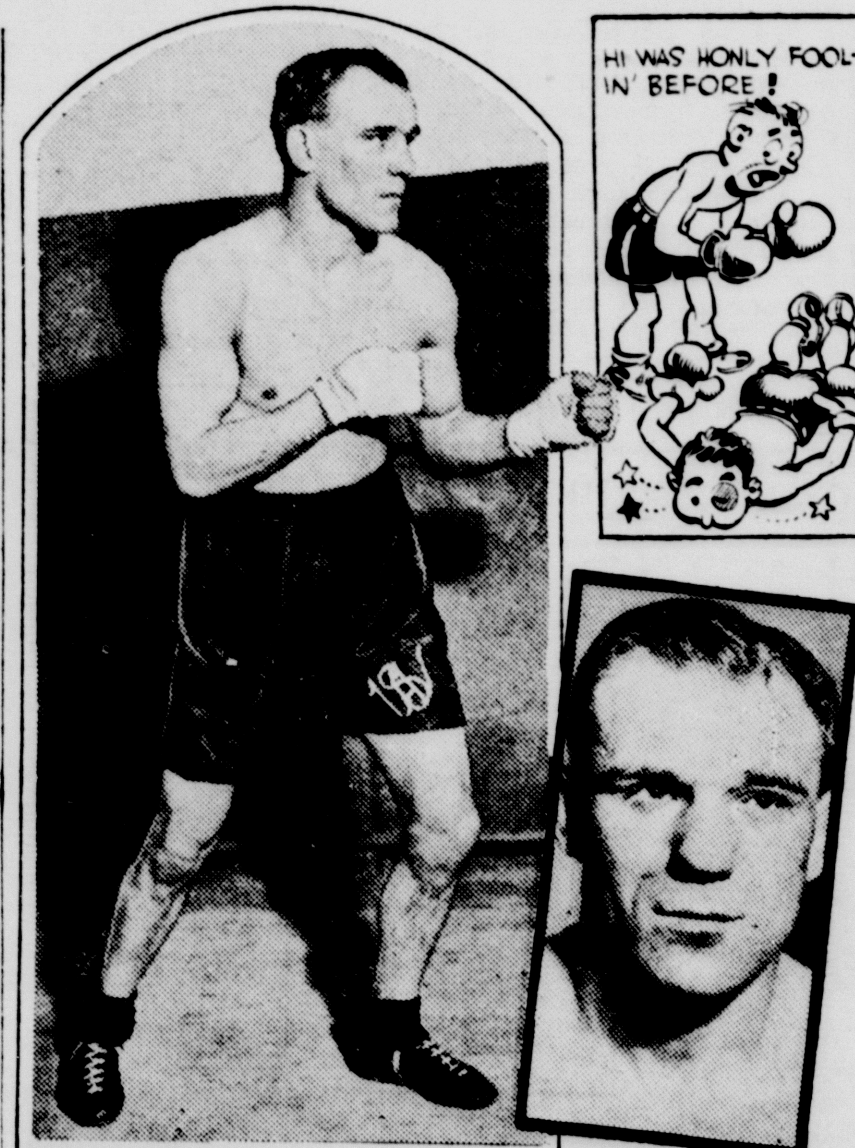

AS it turned out, a jury was appointed, the English fighter was sent into the ring, and was made to perform against three tough trial horses who never got anywhere in the fistie world.

Watson's showing was miserable! His reputed potent right hand was slumbering; his fancy footwork in the ring wasn't even mediocre, and the three second-raters who faced him made him look pretty punk.

Despite his showing in this trial, however, the judges appointed to pass on his merit gave him a satisfactory report card, and he was qualified to pass into high school—a bout with Chocolate.

In the meantime, however, the Cuban "Keed" with the flashy left hand and prominent teeth was running into difficulties. Deportation officers got hold of him on some sort of charge and refused him entrance into the United States on the way back from a trip to his native land.

Since it was impossible for Watson to fight Chocolate, the promoters scurried around and found Fidel LaBarba doing nothing, so they signed the Fidel to a bout with the British champion.

Seaman Watson, shown above in fighting pose and closeup, startled fight fans and upset the dope when, after making a punk gym appearance against three not-so-good pugs, he turned around and beat Fidel LaBarba, a topnotcher.

feather title holders for some years.

Just a few months ago he met Chocolate and, while the Cuban boy was given the decision in a close fight in New York, everyone but the judges agreed that the coast boy had won the battle. His showing in that fight proved that he was just about the classiest featherweight in the business, not barring Chocolate, the New York champion, or Tommy Paul, who was the National Boxing Association's choice at the time.

So the night that Fidel and Thomas stepped into the ring together, the California boy was the decided favorite, odds of 4 to 1 being given on him. Did little Thomas upset the wise boys who bet against him? He certainly did!

Knocked down twice during early rounds of the bout, he rallied with such a display of courage and attack that his win over LaBarba was unanimous with both judges and the crowd. He was an entirely different fighter in the ring than he was in the gym.

Watson, by his decisive win over LaBarba, will meet Chocolate soon—if the "Keed's" handlers haven't become leary of the Britisher. If he does, he'll give the negro plenty of action, and he'll be one of the few English fighters to prove a crowd-pleaser in the United States.

PASS UP THE PEDDLER!

"Beware. Don't trade with the door-to-door peddler." That is the heading over a page advertisement in an exchange, signed by the merchants of the city.

It points out that the rule of "caveat emptor" prevails when one purchases from the unknown agent. "Let the buyer beware," for there are no come-backs. The continued success of the merchant, however, depends upon his local patronage, and therefore his reputation for fair dealing. He can be reached, endeavors to provide service and correct mistakes. With the peddler he is here today and gone tomorrow.

The advertisement asks: "Do you want to deal with an assortment of 'fly-by-night' traders? Or do you want to deal with your steadfast, home-town merchants—the men who make up the list of your better citizens, largest taxpayers, public benefactors and community builders?"

The irresponsible agent appears at the door. He or she shows you samples of goods. You are prevailed upon to buy for it appears to be a bargain. But you find out differently when the article arrives. It is not in accordance with the sample or representations. It is cheap stuff, may not fit, and is entirely unsatisfactory. It is returned with request for correction or return of money. You receive neither. There is no redress. Your investment is lost.

Many have undergone such experiences, and have profited thereby at a cost. So from the selfish and safe standpoints alone, it pays to patronize the home merchant in preference to the unknown afar off.

FALLING FOR FAKE SCHEMES

Never within the recollection of the present generation have so many fake schemes come to light as within the last two years. Almost every day papers in some part of the country are called upon to expose a new scheme. But, as a rule, the expose comes after the faker has gathered in the money and hid himself to other territory, where his game is still unknown. He manages to keep one jump ahead of the denouncers. This section has come in for its share of schemes and fakers, and its citizens have contributed their share of coin to the schemers. It has never been plain why local citizens will bite at something a home town citizen couldn't sell them in a thousand years.

Along comes a perfect stranger selling advertising space on a time card, cook book, calendar, or some other fake scheme. He sells his space readily, in a form of advertising that usually isn't worth the paper it is printed on, pockets the money and is on his way. And then, when the advertiser fails to get results—as he does ninety-nine times out of a hundred—he goes around declaring that "advertising doesn't pay." The fact of the matter is such schemes are not legitimate advertising, and that is the only kind that ever did or ever will pay.

There is something funny about human nature when it comes to these fake schemes. Nobody can understand why merchants and professional men will "fall for them" when they wouldn't buy a nickel's worth of space if a home town man was doing the soliciting. But a perfect stranger comes along and they bite—hook, line and sinker. It's a problem no one has so far been able to figure out.—Slaton Slatonite.

FDR Has Thoughtful Friends

Friends of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt expressed their good wishes for him in many different ways recently. He is shown above, at Warm Springs, Ga., slicing a 100-pound cake that was given him on Jan. 30, his 51st birthday. And below is the palatial yacht Nourmahal, which Vincent Astor has made available to the president-elect during the latter's two-week cruise in Florida waters.

NOTED STUDENT PASTOR TO VISIT CANYON

On next Tuesday, Feb. 14th, Rev. Harris Masterson, widely known student pastor of the Episcopal Church, will be in Canyon. Mr. Masterson was for some time student counselor in the Imperial Chinese University, and has recently visited Japan. He is a native Texan, with a B. A. degree from the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., and a graduate of the Cambridge Divinity School, in Massachusetts. He is now student pastor of the University of Texas.

STORK SPECIAL
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hand Sunday.

He Has Novel Peace Plan

A plan for world peace devised by Henry C. Kornved, above, 37-year-old California World War veteran and farmer, has attracted such wide attention that a committee of prominent Californians have submitted it to Nobel peace award authorities. Kornved's plan embodies a world court whose decisions would be confirmed or rejected by citizens of dissenting nations. In event of the latter, the nation opposing the world court's decision would be classed as hostile, and would face the opposition of all other nations.
